Why I Love My Queen.

BY ONE OF BRITAIN'S SONS.

Nothing in my life, which has of course been very uneventful hitherto, moves me so deeply as the extraordinary outburst of loyalty from British subjects throughout the Empire, and of affection and respect all the world over, which takes place on any occasion personally touching the Queen.

I believe I, too, share to the fullest extent these feelings. Of late I have been trying to find out what it is that so profoundly moves one on these occasions, and I think I have discovered the reason. To begin with I was brought up to reverence the Queen as one should reverence all aged persons. She was already an old lady when I first saw the light of day, and therefore she has always presented to me the same venerable figure through my childhood, my school days and my growing up.

Consider the vast amount of experience and knowledge the Queen must have acquired during her lengthy occupation of the British throne; look at the men, women and times that are included in her life; think of the fact that among her advisers have been Melbourne, Aberdeen, Grey, Palmerston, Peel, Russell, Disraeli, Bright, Gladstone and many others; that among her soldiers she has counted Cardigan, Hawke, Napier and Gordon, down to Roberts, Wolseley and Kitchener; that during her reign railways, telegraphs, the electric light and many other wonderful inventions have come into existence. What an enormous amount of good the Queen must wield in the world, partly due, perhaps, to the fact that she is connected by ties of blood with practically all the crowned heads of Europe. I believe she has as much influence with the Presidents of the United States as she has with any of her crowned relations. Why is it? It is because the Queen herself, the person among women, always uses her influence to good ends. Words from her have as much weight with rulers and statesmen as the councils of any half-dozen noted men of our age.

I love and revere the Queen, moreover, because of her sublime endurance of sorrow. My life as yet is too young for much grief to come into it, but I think I can understand what suffering the Queen must have undergone at the loss of her devoted husband, her grandchildren and life-long friends. How nobly she has borne her losses I myself have seen in recent years, and I have paid of others, not less affecting. All this endears her to me in a way far more than any conception I can form of her public position. Her efforts have always been on the side of peace and righteousness.

Moreover I believe that every youthful Britain throughout the vast British Empire feels exactly towards the Queen as I do. Com-

HYMENEAL

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Needham's on Wednesday the 26th inst., when their eldest daughter, Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Mr. Geo. Dell, the Rev. Jas. Hoskins performing the ceremony. Miss Flo Needham acted as bride's maid, and Mr. Wm. Ross as best man. The bride looked well in a cream cashmere dress trimmed with lace and orange blossoms and carrying in her hand a bunch of fragrant flowers. The bride's maid was dressed in a pretty shade of blue, trimmed with white satin. Miss M. Wilson played the wedding march. After the ceremony a good supper was served and shortly after the young couple departed for their own home and wishes for their future happiness and "showers of blessing," symbolized by showers of rice. The bride was the recipient of a number of pretty and useful presents. We wish them a truly successful and happy life.

Balgonic.

From our own correspondent.

The midsummer has brought us a number of visitors, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. W. Hinton, of Smith's Falls, Ont., and Miss E. Kirkpatrick, of Carmen, Man., who are spending their holidays at Mr. W. Moulton's; Miss Sytle and nephew, of St. Paul's, who are visiting at Sifton Park, and Miss E. McMichael, of McLean, who is the guest of Miss Beatrice Hawkes.

A great many new buildings are being put up in this neighborhood this year, which gives our lumber yard a boom. This activity in building is a good sign of material progress, and will do much to increase the value of land hereabouts.

The prospects are very bright just now for an abundant harvest.

The farmers should be well supplied with horses, judging from the number that have been offered for sale here this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hastings, of Indian Head, are spending a few days with their daughter, Mrs. T. A. Metcalf.

One of our foreign importations living several miles east of here was brought before Messrs. J. B. Hawkes and A. E. Westbrock, Justices of the Peace, charged with maltreating his wife. After hearing the evidence he was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and in default of payment within ten days, one month's imprisonment. Such cases are altogether too common and we hope this may be a salutary lesson to such as he.

Messrs. A. Dundas and A. R. Greenall, absent last Wednesday evening in Qu'Appelle.

Our new blacksmith, Mr. J. Bunyan, is doing a rushing business these days. He is a hustler and that is the kind of man we want here. We wish him all success.

Several fine showers fell here today and did much good. East of here they had very heavy downpours.

Quite a number intend taking in the fair at Regina to-morrow if the weather is favorable.

Sampled Poison.

Wapella, Assa, July 23rd.—Thomas William Gay, a boy working for Mrs. Macrae, was found on the road in a dying condition. He expired a few moments after he was taken to the house. It is supposed that he found on the prairie a bottle of strychnine and tasted it, with fatal results.

THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1899.

THE NEED OF REST.

How to Take It.

A large proportion of nervous diseases would be abolished if we could moderate our hurry, lessen our worry, and increase our outdoor exercise. To people engaged in an active business life this is not always possible, and for those who cannot get a sufficient holiday, the best substitute will be found in an occasional day in bed.

This is by no means a new idea, and it is one which is very seldom put into practice. It does seem hard when one has only one day a week free to spend that day in bed; but the person who has the courage to do it will be well repaid by the feeling of renewed energy and rest.

Many who are willing to take physical rest do not know how to set about it. It is simple enough. The most restful position the body can take is lying flat on the back and stretching out at full length, because it requires no effort whatever to maintain this pose. The head must not be too high, and, if possible, keep the eyes closed and the mind free from all worry and thought.

If we cannot avoid frequent agitation we ought, if possible, to give the nervous system time to recover itself between the shocks. Even an hour's seclusion will deprive many a hurried, anxious day of much of its injury. The nerves can often be overcome by straitened when they refuse to be controlled by strength of will.

NOTES.

The Manitoba Legislature closed its session on Friday last.

In the Dominion House of Commons on Thursday last the Preferential Trade amendment was defeated by 77 to 41.

DOMINION GOVERNMENT FINAL ESTIMATES.

Redistribution Bill Thrown Out by the Senate.

FINAL ESTIMATES.

Ottawa, July 18.—Canada's running expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900, are estimated at $51,783,895 by the Minister of Finance. The main estimates, brought down by Hon. W. S. Fielding in April last, were for $46,286,550, of which $4,758,252 were chargeable to capital. Last year the total amount voted was $47,900,487. It will thus be seen that the country's expenditure will be some $3,883,408 greater than the preceding year. This increase is in some measure nominal, however, as nearly $600,000 of the amount is composed of revotes. The total sum asked is the largest in Canada's history, but, as has been said, we have more and have spent more. Canada's prosperity justifies the expenditure.

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

Since it was announced that Sir Mackenzie Bowell, at the time of the introduction of the redistribution bill in the Commons, was disposed to let the measure pass the Senate, there have been many protests from the Conservative half in the House of Commons, while from the country there have been numerous dissent. Sir Charles Tupper, it is said, was violently indignant at the reported acquiescence of Sir Mackenzie, and his friend paid indications of seeking for him a niche in the Conservative martyrdom, as a victim of the usurpation of his extreme opinion, in former Premier of the Conservative party. Mr. George F. Foster, who was credited to his admirers in fact of his conviction that Sir Mackenzie's desire to get even with the "nest of traitors" of 1896 impelled him to prove recreant to his duties as a man of light and leading in the Conservative party and to his fealty to the new head, Sir Charles Tupper. On this single string the Ontario Conservatives harped so assiduously and earnestly that for once the determined old gentleman who was supplanted by Sir Charles backed down, not because he has developed any new feelings of regard for the Tupper, or for any others of the galaxy of bolters, but because he was made the victim of a most stupendous bluff when he was induced to believe that his action in recommending his somewhat disorganized following to vote for the bill would be taken as a proof of his intention to smash the Conservative party in order to insert a knife under the fifth rib of Sir Charles. When the latter statesman, during his speech on the measure, cast his eyes aloft to the Senators gallery and explored the majority in the upper house to strangle the bill, there was no responsive smile from Sir Mackenzie. For weeks afterwards Sir Mackenzie remained convinced that he would be doing no good thing in coming out against the measure.

But within the past twenty-four hours or so he has changed his views, and to-night, after a four hours' speech against the measure, moved this amendment to the motion of Hon. David Mills for the second reading of the bill:—"That it be resolved that it is inexpedient to proceed further with the bill now under consideration, inasmuch as it is provided by section 51 of the British North America Act that the representation of the Provinces in the House of Commons shall be readjusted upon the completion of decennial census, subject to and in accordance with the rules in the said act set forth, and as the next decennial census under the provisions of the Confederation act be taken in 1901, a readjustment of constituencies in the Dominion made previous to such census being taken would be a violation of the spirit of such act."

SENATOR FERGUSON'S SPEECH.

This afternoon Senator Ferguson of Prince Edward Island, who was a member of the Tupper Government, resumed the debate on the motion for the second reading of the redistribution bill. In his remarks the Senator spoke strongly on the Government's resolution regarding the reform of the upper House. The Senator, he said, was called on to consider the bill under the most peculiar circumstances. In the Commons there was under consideration a resolution aimed at the independence and liberty and the co-ordinate honor and dignity of the Senate. With one hand the government had brought down this extraordinary measure and with the other the threat contained in that resolution. The government could find no parallel in constitutional history for the present bill, and would have to go back to the later days of the Roman republic, when tyrants placed soldiers in the public places to overawe the tribunes of the people. The only excuse given so far for the introduction of the measure was that it was in the interests of the party to undo a wrong which it was claimed was done by the redistribution bill of 1882. The only effect the bill would have would be to produce some changes in the constituencies favorable to the party in power. He quoted Sir Louis Davies in 1892, when speaking on the redistribution bill of that year, and said the language used on that occasion was prophetic, as it expressed the view that the Liberal party would get into power by accident. One objection to the bill was that it was not general in its character, and only dealt with western Ontario, Prince Edward Island, the City and County of St. John and a few scattered constituencies in Quebec. He quoted the resolution moved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1884 touching the question of redistribution to a committee of both houses, and said why it

A New System of Brands.

The settlers throughout the Territories will hail with delight the announcement recently made, that a change has been adopted in the system of allotting cattle brands. Hitherto all cattle brands consisted of two letters and a numeral, viz. C12, and this brand was recorded for the whole of one man's animals. Some three or four thousand of these combinations have now been registered and the system pronounced inexhaustible has "played out." Those parties who have not yet applied for their brands, will not be sorry. The new system adopted by the Department of Agriculture is simplicity itself. A number of the characters used in the old system have been discarded, such as B, R, S, and others, while a few have been added. These characters are grouped together with certain signs, usually straight bar, quarter circle and half diamond above or below. These characters are used in each brand, one letter, one numeral and one sign, which makes a very plain and compact brand. It is to be hoped that when the Manitoba authorities commence the recording of brands, care will be exercised to profit by the experience of the Territories, where the number of recorded brands is said to exceed 8,000 and where a great deal of ill-feeling and bitterness was engendered in the attempt to reorganize the whole branding system. Every stockman in the west is willing to admit that the result has been most satisfactory; but probably the same end might have been reached by a slower and less radical measure.—Nor-West Farmer.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

ARBITRATION WILL PROBABLY BE ADOPTED.

The Proposal Has Passed Its Second Reading and Will Undoubtedly Be Passed Entirely Today.

The Hague, July 21.—The third committee of the international conference met today. M. Bourgeois, of France, presiding. At the opening of the sitting the Rumanian, Grecian and Serbian delegates jointly moved the total suppression of the five articles relating to international courts of inquiry. M. Beldinman, the Rumanian deputy, was their spokesman, and addressed the committee for an hour. He claimed that the proposition for a court of inquiry was not contained in Count Maréville's circular, and was contrary to the principle of national sovereignty. Rumania, he said, would gladly pledge herself to the rest of the arbitration scheme, but it was impossible to fulfill these and other obligations. Chevalier Deschamps, the Belgian delegate, and Prof. Maarten, Russia, defended the articles, which were finally passed on the first reading, the three protesting states recording their objection.

In the afternoon Prof. Maarten said that when everything had been done to protect the weaker states against the stronger, the former thus obtaining a shield, the commission of inquiry providing this—this was willing to make further concessions, but it was impossible to make the matter more optional. These concessions were accepted by the smaller powers and, proposal passed its second reading. The arbitration scheme will probably be passed entirely to-morrow.

Protrugia, July 21.—The new franchise law comes into operation immediately. The voters' list is sitting in secret session discussing the proposals for the cancellation of the dynamite monopoly. It has adopted further articles of the franchise law, enabling some of the outlanders to become citizens. At the age of 16 and to obtain their franchise five years thereafter.

TO INTERVIEW DEWEY.

Whitney Will Endeavor to Persuade the Admiral to Allow His Name to Come Before the Democratic National Convention.

Chicago, July 21.—Oliver P. Belmont, of New York, was asked last night if William C. Whitney's sudden departure for Europe was in the nature of a mission. He said he understood that Mr. Whitney meant to see Admiral Dewey and present his name to the national convention as a candidate for the nomination. "Not that I believe Mr. Whitney will succeed in his object," continued Mr. Belmont. "I do not think the admiral would consent to become a candidate."

"Do you think the admiral were brought to consent he could beat Mr. Bryan in the convention?" "Candidly," replied Mr. Belmont, "I do not think he could. Mr. Bryan, so far as I can fathom, seems well nigh the unanimous choice of the whole party. Assembled by the natural logical candidate, and today he is inevitable."

Trieste, Austria, July 21.—The United States cruiser Olympia, with Admiral Dewey on board, arrived here this morning. The principal party, it is said, has a flattering article welcoming the admiral to Austria.

The Olympia will remain here for about two weeks. The admiral's health is perfect, and he has not decided whether he will go to Carlsbad, as had been announced, but it is not probable that he will do so. The admiral intends to visit Vienna. The foreign consuls were received by Admiral Dewey on board the Olympia during the forenoon.

Money Goes to Churches.

Toronto, July 21.—Justice Rose gave judgment in an ecclesiastical case. Mrs. Jane Reburn left money to be used in the erection and completion of churches in the poorer Anglican parishes of Ontario. It is claimed the will is invalid by her friends, but the judge found that it is to the general good of the church of Ontario, and that the bequest might fail, and held it to be valid.

J. J. Durne, Ontario commissioner of the Paris exhibition, states that over 500,000 applications for space have been received.

At the city council's first meeting today in the new hall, Ald. Lynd's motion to ask the government will make a survey of the French and Ottawa rivers canal, to also survey the Georgian Bay and Ontario ship canal route, was carried.

It is rumored in police circles that London has asked for twenty police and that the force will be sent there to-morrow.

NORWEGIAN ASHORE.

Halifax, July 21.—The unarmored steamer was received here last night that the Allan liner Norwegian was ashore at Trapsay, Nfld.

YUKON COUNCIL.

The sum estimated at $800,000 by Mr. Grouard, Member of Council, Vancouver, July 21.—Mr. J. E. Grouard, who passed through the city last fall en route to Dawson, where he was appointed a member of the council of administration for that district, is on his way east. He is authority for the statement that the royalties so far this year will exceed the sum of $800,000. He estimated the total output from the mines to be at least $200,000. He explained the discrepancy upon the royalty as compared with the total output on the ground that the former had been diminished, because it was now only levied on all sums over $5,000 instead of over $2,000 as formerly. To claim, he said, was worked at all, unless it was proving rich, because labor and other expenses have been so high that practically the paying claims were confined to the five principal creeks worked last year.

Lizzie Irwin Missing.

Winnipeg, July 21.—Lizzie, a little two-year old Lizzie Irwin, daughter of Mr. Geo. Irwin, a farmer of Stony Mountain, wandered away from her home on Wednesday at noon and her parents have been unable to find her since. The little girl was playing with her brother when she became annoyed at him for raising a row over one of his playthings and declared she would run away. Her brother, who is not more than four or five years old, seeing his little sister put her threat into effect and commenced to run away from him when at once to tell his mother. When Mrs. Irwin came out to look for Lizzie, the little girl was nowhere to be seen. Thinking the child could not be far away the mother was at first only slightly anxious, but unable to find the child she became alarmed. An hour's search of all on the farm could not find the little one. Night came on and still Lizzie could not be found, though searches from Stonewall and Argyle left every assistance to the distracted parents. Their efforts were of no avail and morning came without the girl being found.

Yesterday morning Mr. J. F. Campbell, proprietor of the Manson house, who is a brother-in-law to Mr. Irwin, was notified, and with the assistance of Alderman Speers, tried to secure a bloodhound to trace the child, but was unable to find a suitable animal. Mr. Campbell took the Stonewall train to help in the search, but up to a late hour last night the little girl had not been found. It is believed the child fell asleep on the prairie and waking up after darkness had fallen and could not find her way home and wandered away. Searching parties were out in every direction all day.

Oddfellows' Relief.

Kingsport, July 21.—The annual meeting of the Oddfellows' Relief association decided to give enlarged powers to the local board of directors in Manitoba, and institute a similar board in the maritime provinces. Notice of motion was presented giving power to issue "insurance for $2,500 and $3,000 at proportionate rates. The hazardous rating affirmed during the year was declared not to be retroactive, and applying to members then in occupation alleged to be hazardous. The retiring residential directors, Dr. F. Fowler, J. E. McIvor and S. O'Brien, were re-elected. The non-residential directors elected were: Ontario, Wm. Donaghy, J. P. Hornbrooks, H. White, Quebec, D. J. Dickson, J. A. BRANDON'S SUMMER FAIR.

Five Cattle Exhibit—Bicycle and Horse Races—Grand Stand Attractions.

Brandon, July 19.—The Western Agricultural and Arts association exhibition for 1899 is now in progress. All day yesterday exhibitors were arriving by trail and train and this morning the grounds presented a most gay and lively appearance. The attendance at the grounds was not large in the morning, but the hundreds there were all as busy as they could be, decorating, placing, arranging and putting the finishing touches to the various displays.

The grounds presented a handsome appearance from the city, situated as they are on the hillside, with rows of white tents, the green of the prairie, the dark red of the buildings, and masses of brighter colors showing in brilliant confusion everywhere. All the buildings, fences and tents are decorated with gaudily colored flags, the work of Mr. C. K. Helliwell, to whom the directors of the fair are much indebted.

The weather today has been beautifully fine and hot, just a little hot for the comfort of spectators. However, at half past eleven o'clock a large excursion train came in from the north and shortly after noon the crowds began to pour to the grounds to take in the programme for the first day, the bicycles races.

Outlook Good for Harvest.

Ottawa, July 19.—Information received during the past few days by the directors of the experimental farms regarding the crops in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories are very encouraging. S. A. Bedford, superintendent of the experimental farm, Brandon, Man., says that the crops at present look remarkably well and that the grain everywhere is unusually good.

Mr. Bedford had just returned from attending a series of meetings in different parts of Manitoba.

Dr. Fletcher, who spent the past fortnight in addressing meetings of farmers in some of the best grain growing sections of Manitoba and the Territories, says that the crops everywhere are magnificent. Some of those best able to judge say that there has never been a better promise of an abundant harvest.

A Mackay, superintendent of the experimental farm at Indian Head, writes under date of July 14th, as follows: "Weather continues warm and favorable for crops. For the past week it has been 80 to 83 in the shade, with no strong winds. Nearly all the six-rowed varieties of wheat. Red Eye is just starting to come out. We began cutting Ernie grass hay yesterday. This is a good crop. Grass cut yesterday will give about three tons to the acre."

May Smith Found Dead.

Stony Mountain, Man., July 19.—Miss May Smith, a bright young lady, about twenty years of age, daughter of Mr. John Smith of the Firebrand farm here, left home about noon yesterday and did not return. A searching party turned out last night and search of until about noon today.

Poplar Plains.

The annual basket picnic held by the people of Poplar Plains will be held this year on August 11th near the school house. A lot of good amusements will be indulged in, and a big cry is expected.

Weyburn.

This place seems to be making rapid advances. It is estimated that there is broken ready for wheat crop next spring about 8,000 acres. In an exchange they are asking for tenders for the erection of a public school.

We noticed the first binder of the season going out last Friday. It was a Deering Ideal Binder.

What Was Wanted.

The rain on Sunday was a great blessing. The gardens especially were very dry. The grain crops also needed it, although not as much as some farmers claimed. It will increase the yield considerably. Between here and Port Qu'Appelle very little rain fell and they are still in need of it.

Entertainment.

We believe J. W. Bengough, of Toronto, is to give one of his famous Cynon and Comedy Entertainments in the town hall here sometime in September. Many will no doubt remember his entertainment here a few years ago and will be glad of an opportunity to hear him again.

His Reward.

In Wolsley, on July 15th, a young man named Bruce was tried before Judge Wetmore on two charges of indecent offences. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months and seven lashes for one offence and to three years for the other. The sentence to run concurrently. He is now serving his time at Stony Mountain Penitentiary.

Shaken Up.

Mr. E. Holt had a nasty fall last Thursday while fixing the roof of a house at the race-course for the English church Sunday School bazaar. Part of the roof gave way, allowing him to fall to the floor, scraping his face badly with the brush on the way. In trying to save himself with his hands he sprained the wrist of one hand and bruised the fingers of the other.

American Press.

A long train containing the American National Editorial Association was side-tracked here for a short time on Thursday afternoon last to allow the Imperial Limited to pass. The excursionists were delighted with their trip through the Rocky Mountains, and said the American Rockies have not nearly such fine scenery as our Canadian Rockies. Judging by the wheat to be seen along the railroad track, they thought the North west, as a wheat country, was not what it was claimed to be. Of course they were told that the wheat along the track was the poorest in the country. We think we are right in saying that the best farms are back from the track. The railroads are generally built through the poorest part of the country. The excursionists had not intended going home by way of Winnipeg; but changed their route on receiving a pressing invitation to do so from the Manitoba Immigration Department. They received a hearty welcome from the authorities and principle business men of the town stopped at en route. They, of course, were in for a good time, and some of our townspeople got the occasion from the questions they asked that either many of them were very green or that they thought the people of this town were. It must be remembered, however, that editors always ask questions and the habit may have grown to such an extent on some of the Americans that they asked some foolish questions while here.

Large Stable.

The enterprising firm of Johnston & Creamer are having a stone foundation laid for a large stable 36 x 86 near their present stable on Tenth Avenue.

Making Ready.

On Wednesday the flag pole from in front of C. T. Bailey's store was taken to Indian Head along with goods from the Massey-Harris store-house here.

Polo Match.

Last Friday night the following polo players went to Indian Head and played a match with a team of that place: A. D. Dickson, B. Harvey, J. Sargent and F. E. Parker. The result was a victory for our players of about 10 to 0.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The play Uncle Tom's Cabin will be presented by the Deane Co. in the town hall on Saturday evening of this week. The company is said to be a good one. They are billed here for a bad night, as the stores being open will effect the attendance, and some will probably go from here to the circus at Indian Head that night.

Withdrawn.

Mr. Joseph Jackson, of Regina, was called to appear before the magistrates on a charge of violating the Transient Traders' By-law by selling a horse in town. The case was withdrawn by mutual consent. Under a recent Territorial enactment it seems the selling of one horse is not a violation of the By-law, as the party is not making a business of selling them. The By-law is good, just the same.

Toothache Cure.

A young woman of this place had the toothache one night last week. A friend rubbed on some electric oil which eased it, but did not stop it. After her friend had left the room she decided to give it another dose. Unfortunately she took up the wrong bottle and rubbed around the tooth with carbolic acid. The result is she has a very sore mouth and a large discolored spot on her cheek where the acid had burned through. It is just as well to "see before taking" as to follow the doctors' instructions, "shake before taking."
